Director's Notes

In the winter of 2002, I met Dinah McClure. She was a new appointee to the Tippecanoe County Public Library (TCPL) Board of Trustees. I don't think either of us knew our paths would intersect for more than a decade. Sixteen years later, Dinah and I are ending a professional working relationship initiated and sustained by her service as a TCPL Board member. At the December 4, 2018 monthly meeting, Dinah completed her fourth four-year term.

Sixteen years ago, I was the new County Librarian. Dinah was the first new TCPL Board member, and I am not sure either of us knew what to expect. That meant we needed to consider how I would introduce her to fellow Board members and acclimate Dinah to the entire institution. It also meant Dinah would have to determine her own approach to Board service. Together, we made it through that first winter, and we have been moving forward together for the past 16 years.

Dinah has been an exemplary Board member. Her attendance was great, and she fully participated in Board meetings by being engaged and responsive to the topics and issues at hand. Dinah served as an officer of the Board in several capacities, including three stints as Board President. Her committee work includes Finance, Facilities, and Personnel. She served as liaison to both the Friends of the Library and TCPL's Foundation. Dinah is always professional, gracious and collegial in her approach to the work of the Board and to me.

Dinah has always served as a great sounding board for ideas. As I sought her counsel in many circumstances and situations, she has been a wise advisor. Whether she was the Board President or not, Dinah was gracious about listening and responding. She is very professional, while at the same time being open and inquisitive. Dinah is comfortable to speak with and displays a good sense of humor.

Dinah also happens to be an avid library user. I think this helped solidify her dedication to the library as an institution. She has provided thoughtful input on several key policy changes and always represents the library well.

Dinah wholeheartedly supports the library, its policies, and its staff. She has seen the library through several key decisions including building two branches, closing the Campus Library, various remodeling projects, and the acquisition of the Stein Building.

Today, there are no Board members serving who were here when I began work. To see this first new Board member leave is more sensitive for me than I expected. Think about it. Dinah spent sixteen years of monthly meetings as a volunteer for a community organization. She spent more than a decade and a half donating her time, talent, and energy to TCPL. It has been a privilege and honor to work with her.

Some volunteers go out with a "big bang" including a reception, cards, gifts, and speeches. Others leave quietly with no fanfare, as little attention as possible, and in simple humility. The latter was Dinah's choice. On the other hand, there is the principle of "giving honor to whom honor is due." Dinah was gently honored and recognized at her last Board meeting. For seeing her final four-year term through to the end, for a job fully completed, and a job well done, Dinah truly deserves honor. Thanks, Dinah.

TIPCAT

Change Offers You Star Power. Coming Spring 2019!

Polaris, also called the North Star, is used as a navigation tool. TIPCAT, our online catalog, is a tool customers use to navigate library resources. We know our catalog has been challenging to use, so to improve your navigation results we are installing a new, behind-the-scenes software system called Polaris.

The catalog will still be "TIPCAT," but it will look, run, and work a bit differently. It will retain the "My Account" features you like, including information about current checkouts, overdues, holds, and billed items. It will also maintain your ability to pay bills online.

As you explore the new, Polaris-powered catalog, you'll quickly appreciate the differences. Enjoy:

- Improved search functions
- Options to save and schedule common searches
- Highlighted content, such as recently purchased titles
- Reviewing your reading/ borrowing history
- Using a variety of browsers and devices

To find out more, visit tcpl.lib.in.us, call 429-0113, or stop by any TCPL library.
