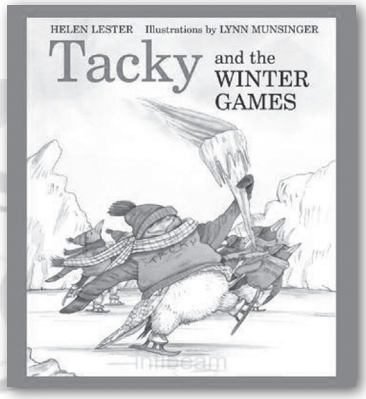
Communities, Poetry & Libraries Thrive!

Dimension of Illusion
Magician Rusty Ammerman
Saturday, March 27, 11 a.m. & 3 p.m.
Downtown, ages 5 & up
Enjoy one part comedy, one part magic, and 42 parts audience participation. Experience a unique mix of mystery and maniacal mayhem. As Rusty says, "Magic has nothing to do with fooling people; it's all about entertainment!"

All Libraries Closed Easter Sunday, April 4 & Memorial Day, Monday, May 31.

Join Us & Celebrate
National Library Week
April 11-17
In 1958, the American Library Association and member libraries created a national week of observance between libraries and the communities they serve. TCPL often hosts award-winning authors, such as Helen Lester, and offers customers a small surprise or two.

We invite new residents, active cardholders and folks we haven't seen lately to stop by your nearest library. See how reading and communities "thrive together!"



Author Helen Lester
Thursday, April 15
4:30 p.m., all ages
Downtown
Brace yourself as Helen Lester entertains with her ukulele and tells stories about her hilarious picture books. Hear how one little penguin, who sings off key and wears Hawaiian shirts, impacts her life.

Lester's published works now include more than 24 children's books. Tacky the penguin, Pinkerton the pig, and Buddy the rabbit, are drawn from students she taught in elementary school.

In visits across the country, Helen Lester encourages schoolchildren to write. Author: A True Story is a book about her writing experiences. "My books don't jump out of the computer," she cautions. "Being edited isn't fun, but it's good for you." A book signing follows the program.

Indiana's Poet Laureate
Indiana In Words & Music
Saturday, April 10, 2 p.m., Downtown

Hear Indiana Poet Laureate Norbert Krapf, plus IU professor and jazz performer and producer Monika Herzig pay tribute to the southern Indiana hill country, the late Hampton sisters, and various Indiana Avenue jazz greats. Enjoy the poetry of Etheridge Knight. Hum along to the legendary music of Hoagy Carmichael (a short-term resident of Lafayette).

Described as a "contemporary Indiana form of chamber music," the performance is structured in two sets with a 15-minute intermission. Autographing session and performers' materials sold after the program. No tickets or registration are required.

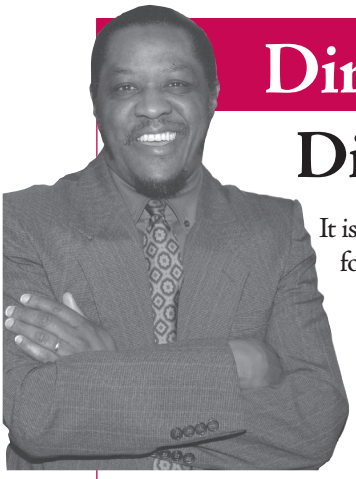
The Golden Age of Indiana Literature

IHS Exhibit – Downtown Library
April 1-30

A 1947 study reported Indiana ranked second only to New York in the number of bestsellers produced over 40 years. This special Indiana Historical Society (IHS) display features George Ade, Meredith Nicholson, Booth Tarkington, and James Whitcomb Riley. See photos, mementos and more!

The TCPL Calendar is always online @ www.tcpl.lib.in.us.

Director's Note & Foundation



Director's Notes

It is not unusual for leaders of businesses and organizations to cross into a new calendar year and then somehow statistically review the past year. Predictably, after reviewing these statistics I become curious about the previous year, then multiple years!

The Indiana State Library requires all public libraries to file an annual report. Though TCPL keeps monthly and quarterly statistics, it is often this annual responsibility that provides the best understanding of the many facets of our library. We completed our 2009 report in early February, and I thought you might be as interested as I was in some of the yearly totals.

- There were 886,246 total visits to all four TCPL libraries.
- 1,023 programs were presented to library users.
- 32,280 people of all ages attended library programs.
- Children's program attendance alone was 24,618.
- The library circulated 1,688,489 items.
- There were 17,283 total public service hours available to library users.
- 90,013 residents and property owners are registered library borrowers.
- There were 3,252,271 hits to the library's web pages.
- A total of $983,758 was spent for new library materials.

This is just a snapshot of more than 100 tidbits of information reported to the Indiana State Library. Certainly these statistics don't reflect the entire being of the library as an organization, but it does provide some insight into the magnitude of services and programs we provide.

As you read this issue of our newsletter you will see a myriad of programs planned for the upcoming months. There are many interesting activities from which to choose! I do hope there are specific ones that you add to your calendar. We make our plans with you in mind, and your attendance is greatly appreciated.

The TCPL staff is a key component of what the library does and "who" the library really is. The annual stats do not entirely reflect how much work TCPL staff members devote to various areas of library services and programs. When you consider the number of people who come into the building and the number of programs at the library, it is obvious the staff play an integral role in making these things happen. Kudos to our staff in bringing you the services and programs you value and enjoy.

In staff orientations, I often say, "If it seems like you are always busy, it is because of the number of people using the library and the number of materials going in and out of the library." Ultimately, we enjoy being busy and are very thankful for our customers.

In terms of overall performance and annual statistics, TCPL had a very good year. At the same time we are moving forward in terms of library services and programs, we are doing our best to maximize the resources available to us. As we continuously work to strengthen library services and programs, we hope you feel pleased and proud of your library. Thanks for this past year of patronage and support. It is our pleasure to serve you in this capacity.

Bequests To Your Library

What is a bequest? A bequest is a specific sum of money to be set aside for your library. It can be calculated as a percentage of an estate. Sometimes a bequest is described as "the residue" and represents the amount left in an estate after other gifts are bestowed.

Who makes charitable bequests? Studies indicate men and women are equally likely to make bequests. Whether single or married, people earning more than $100,000 are equally inclined to create bequests.

Why make a bequest? It helps your family/trustees understand and carry out your wishes. If you are a library supporter now, it ensures your support will continue. If you make a gift to your library, the bequest should name either the Tippecanoe County Public Library or the TCPL Foundation.

You may wish to keep your donation to TCPL private. On the other hand, we would enjoy thanking you personally, hopefully long before we meet the executor of your estate!

For more information, contact Assistant County Librarian Amy Paget at 429-0101 or amypaget@tcpl.lib.in.us.
