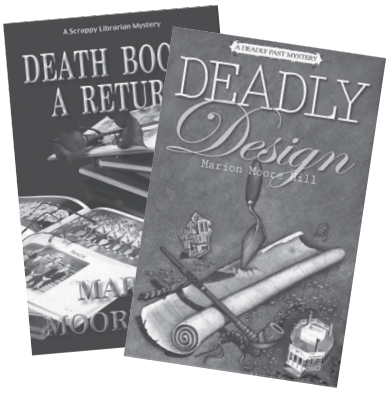
Exercise Your Right To Read Freely



Mystery Author: Marion Moore Hill
Sunday, June 23
2:00 p.m., Downtown
Fictional Juanita Wills is the "scrappy librarian" of an Oklahoma public library. She is known for her insatiable curiosity and a driving need to solve puzzles. A book sale and signing by Marion Moore Hill follows the program.

Summer Reading Clubs

All libraries. All ages.

Sign up May 28 – July 1
Read May 28 – July 31

You might not know it, but in the process of "digging deep," youth summer reading clubs help build reading and language skills. Teen activities motivate youth to get "beneath the surface" by reading and discussing books. Youth and teens earn prizes May-July.

Adult participants experience the joy of "groundbreaking reads," programs, and discussions. Adult records are entered into a drawing. To qualify for prizes, reading records must be stamped by Wednesday, July 31, 9:00 p.m.

Library handouts provide sign-up details and more information. Questions? Stop by any TCPL library, check www.tcpl.lib.in.us, and join us on Facebook and Twitter.

Rock Out With Jeff All
Thursday, June 27
Downtown: 10:30 a.m. or 2:00 p.m.
Klondike: 7:00 p.m.
He'll be coming down the river with his songs. Join us for a rockin' good time. Jeff sings classic children's songs with a groovy beat. Tickets are available Monday, June 24.

Dig Into Magic
Thursday, July 18
10:30 a.m., 2:00 or 7:00 p.m., Downtown
Magician CR Ryan and his son Braden amaze and astound with their magic tricks. Tickets are available Monday, July 15.

Libraries Closed

All library facilities closed July 4, Independence Day and September 2, Labor Day.

Libraries also closed August 13 for staff training day.

Director's Notes

By Jos N. Holman
Tippecanoe County Librarian

Most of us think positively about the word "good" in most ways it is used. Many of us think of the word "great" as even more positive. In September 2012, Greater Lafayette Commerce introduced a plan for the greater Lafayette community to go from "good to great." The plan has eight core goals and includes more than one hundred strategic initiatives. Hopefully you have heard of the plan.*

Creating a Quality of Life Council was one strategic initiative. Because of my work with the Diversity Roundtable, I was invited to be one of 26 representatives on this council. I was asked to serve as team leader (along with two co-team leaders). My role as team leader is to facilitate progress by recruiting people to work on the initiative and creating a process that moves it forward. The team's assignment is Goal 1: "Greater Lafayette is a great place for all people," and we are now involved in a community-wide effort that challenges the community to be more inclusive. Though it is a daunting task, I hope we can rise to the challenge.

You may wonder, how does this activity relate to the library? It relates in a number of ways. As a public library, the idea of enriching individual lives and thereby the community collectively is captured in our vision to "explore and enjoy excellent resources that enrich your life and our community's life, today and tomorrow." By providing resources that have the capability to enrich people's lives, the library has a history of contributing to a "great community."

Public libraries are visited by large numbers of people. Library buildings are gathering places for a variety of local organizations. Library programs, services, facilities, staff and the collections of materials are all meant to ultimately enhance people's lives. When multiple lives are enhanced, I believe the community is enriched and on a journey to greatness.

As County Librarian, I am glad to play a key role in administering a good cultural resource. I like to think the library can go from good to great in its continued efforts to improve all that we do.

I also work on community activities outside library buildings. There, folks see me as the County Librarian first, no matter what the activity is. I enjoy representing the library in a variety of ways and hopefully represent it well.

As a resident, I am glad to participate in making greater Lafayette a better and more inclusive place to live, work, and play. I have always believed that wherever I physically live, I want and need to be involved in the community. It is important for me to give back. Participating in the "good to great" activity provides the opportunity for me to give back in a truly meaningful way.

This might be a good community for you. With work, it can certainly become a great community for you and others. To achieve this distinction, there is work to be done. We need people to do the work. Maybe you have ideas about how to make "greater Lafayette a great place for all people." If so, please join in local efforts to implement and rally around the plan.

*Editor's note: The "Good to Great" plan and ways to participate are available on the Greater Lafayette Commerce web site at www.lafayettechamber.com/quality-life.

21st Century Technologies & Book Groups

Gifts For Youth Technologies

Donations for the 2012-2013 Annual Appeal are still welcome. Thanks to generous donors we now have over $12,000 toward our goal of $25,000 for new youth technologies. The digital devices we purchase will serve children from birth to 11 years old.

What We Fund

Tippecanoe County Public Library Foundation provides funding for resources and enhancements that take our library system and services to new levels of excellence. Your gifts may be used for new and improved library facilities, 21st century digital technologies, and the changing needs of library users. Gifts of any size are appreciated. We'll keep your personal and financial information completely confidential.

Your Legacy

By including the Tippecanoe County Public Library Foundation in your will or estate plan, you can help ensure the library will be enjoyed by generations to come. Planned giving is a way for you to contribute money to the library foundation and realize a variety of estate and financial planning goals. Estate planning instruments include wills, trusts, gift annuities, IRAs, real estate and insurance plans that transfer assets at the end of a donor's life.

Gifts of any amount may be invested strategically with the Community Foundation of Greater Lafayette and generate income for long-term library goals.

NoveList Plus: Self-Service At Its Best

NoveList Plus and NoveList K-8 are considered leading electronic readers' advisory resources, and with good reason. They are well-organized, easy to navigate, the content is rich and varied, plus you can access both remotely. Research fiction and nonfiction reading choices for all ages. Find read-alikes. Browse Book Discussion Guides for your book group.

Quick searches

Author read-alikes: Enter the author's name and get a list of books by that author.

Match a title: Use one title to create lists of books with similar titles.

Target award-winners: "Best Fiction" provides lists of award-winning books.

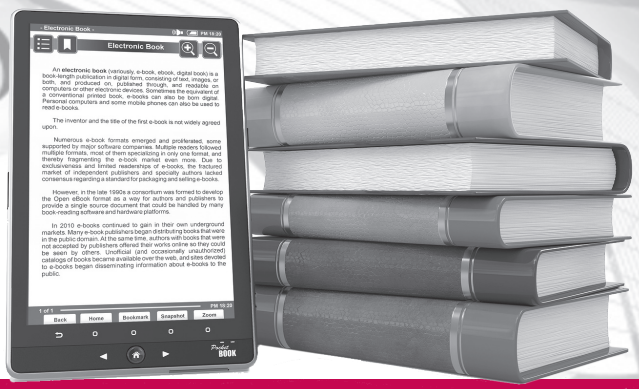
Search for fiction by themes: NoveList contains thousands of theme-oriented booklists. It helps you narrow your focus as well.

Describe a plot: Enter key words and elements in the story and NoveList Plus helps you find the book. Additional search words could be the genre, location, time period, character type, a book's theme or subject.

Browse by subject: Enter words for subjects that interest you. NoveList displays all the subject headings containing those words.

Common Core Connection Teacher Resources

Doing lesson plans this summer? Enjoy short guides based on a variety of subjects and grade levels. Each guide focuses on three nonfiction titles and offers questions to help deepen student learning and support Common Core State Standards-based instruction.



To access NoveList Plus go to www.tcpl.lib.in.us/databases and click "NoveList."
